

A woman in a black jacket is speaking into a microphone, gesturing with her hands.

Three men are seated at a table with laptops and monitors, appearing to be operating the presentation.

Partiamo lo spazio alla gente

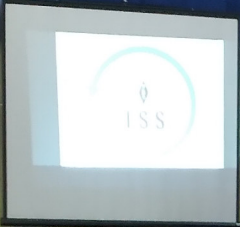

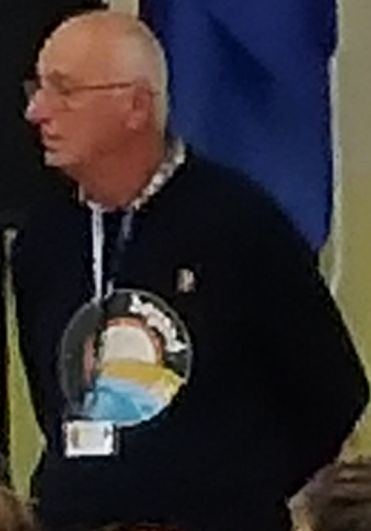

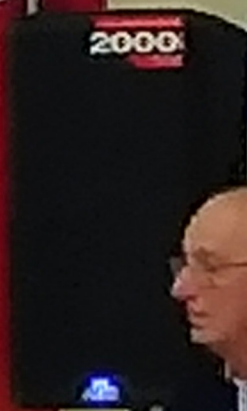

An audience of people is seated in the foreground, facing the presentation area.

A large projection of a satellite or space-related image is shown on the right side of the screen. The text "Az 202.0" is visible at the bottom of the projection.
